Girls on the run Louisville

Late Guardian Policy

Coaches for Girls on the Run are unpaid volunteers, and have families to join, and activities to attend. In respect of their time, guardians are expected to pick up their child from Girls on the Run lessons within 10 minutes of the close of the session. Ongoing tardiness will not be tolerated.
If a parent is tardy by 30 min of picking up his/her child, the guardian will receive a verbal and written email reminder of the policy as well as receive an email reminder that upon the second tardy of 30 min, the GOTR participant will no longer be able to attend Girls on the Run. If a guardian is tardy for a second time by 30 min, the GOTR participant will no longer be able to attend Girls on the Run and no refund of the registration fee will be given.

Please Note: For safety purposes, any single case of unexplained tardiness in excess of 1 hour will necessitate your child being transported to Home of the Innocents, who will potentially contact Child Protective Services.

Absentee Policy

Due to the importance of group dynamics and the experiential learning process of the Girls on the Run curriculum, girls who are absent for more than four (4) practices during one season will no longer be eligible to participate in Girls on the Run. It is critically important to the efficacy of the girls program experience that they participate in both sessions each week and guardians should be informed prior to registration that girls are not allowed to attend only one session a week.

Guardian concerns with either of these policies should be directed to the Girls on the Run Director of Administration for further information: Leslie Danehy 502-595-8538, lesliedanehy@yahoo.com .
